

2nd Humboldt-Princeton Graduate Conference in Philosophy
Preliminary Schedule

	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday
	9.15 – 9.30: Welcome
9.30 – 10.50	Michaela McSweeney: Logical Dependence, Validity, and Grounding Comment by Catharine Diehl	Sebastian Bender: Counterparts, Counterpart Theory, and Possible Worlds in Leibniz Comment by Raphael Krut-Landau	Benjamin Kiesewetter: Instrumental Normativity Comment by Mark Harris
	Coffee	Coffee	Coffee
11.10 – 12.30	Daniel Alscher: Reductionism and the Theory of Real Numbers Comment by Jimmy Martin	Sukaina Hirji: Internalism, Normativity and Relativity Comment by Benjamin Kiesewetter	Jack Woods: Moore's Paradox and Expressivism Comment by Hannah Altehenger
	Lunch	Lunch	Lunch
2.00 – 3.20	Mark Harris: Belief and the Psychological Mechanisms of Representation: Lessons from the Gendler-Schwitzgebel Debate Comment by Sebastian Bender	Daniel Wodak: The Priority Presumption Comment by Jan Gertken	Julia Zakkou: (Not So Many) Varieties of Disagreement Comment by Ashley Atkins
3.30 – 4.50	Catharine Diehl: Metaphysical Structure, Reduction, and Identity: A Case for the Grounding Relation Comment by Michaela McSweeney	Raphael Krut-Landau: Republican freedom revised Comment by Daniel James	Hannah Altehenger: Why peer disagreement does not lead to widespread moral skepticism Comment by Daniel Wodak
	Coffee	Coffee	Coffee
5.10 – 6.30	Jimmy Martin: On Intuition Transfer in Mathematics Comment by Daniel Alscher	Leonhard Menges: Hot and Cold Blame Comment by Sukaina Hirji	Ashley Atkins: Actuality, Possibility, and Progress: A Semantic Account of the Progressive Comment by Julia Zakkou
	Dinner	Dinner

Each slot comprises 30-40 min. for the talk, 10 min. for the comment, and 30-40 min. for discussion.

Organizers: Daniel Wodak (danielwodak@gmail.com) and Andreas Leonhard Menges (mengesan@student.hu-berlin.de)