

Analytic German Idealism

A joint graduate conference of Humboldt University Berlin and the University of Toronto

November 10–11, 2022, Humboldt-University Berlin, Unter den Linden 6, Room 1066e

Organizers: Nicholas Stang (UT), Tobias Rosefeldt (HU)

November 10th

- 11:30 welcome
- 11:40–13:00 Dave Suarez (UT), Architectonic Drift: Kant, Hegel, and Cassirer on the History of Reason
lunch break
- 14:30–15:50 Thiomir Arnaudov (HU), The impossible beginning of Hegel's Logic
coffee break
- 16:10–17:30 Risha Kuthoore (UT), One world or two? Problems for Lucy Allais's reading of Kant's Transcendental Idealism
- 18:15–20:00 keynote lecture: Nicholas Stang (UT), Kant, Goodman, and Grue

November 11th

- 10:00–11:20 Sean Dudley (UT), Reason as Formal Condition of Knowledge: G. E. Moore's Reading of Kant and the Birth of Analytic Philosophy
coffee break
- 11:40–13:00 Sebastian Bender (HU), Kant's Possibility Proof and the Principle of Complete Determination
lunch break
- 14:30–15:50 Ethan Millar-Virkutis (UT), Noumenal Affection and Practical Reason
coffee break
- 16:10 – 17:30 Myriam Stihl (HU), §21: Kant's Guide to the Proof-Structure of the B-Deduction
- 18:15-20:00 keynote lecture: Tobias Rosefeldt (HU), Determining Time by Causality. Transcendental Idealism in Kant's Second Analogy

